6 次の英文を読んで、後の問いに答えなさい。

It is said that more than 80 percent of junior high school students use smartphones every day. They enjoy watching videos, playing games, listening to music, and sending messages to their friends.

Smartphones are very useful and help students in many ways. For example, students can learn new things by watching videos for studying. They can take photos and check the weather. When they go to a new place, they can use maps. Some of them use *apps to study English words and math. In these ways, smartphones make their lives easier and better.

However, smartphones also have some problems. Some students spend too much time on their smartphones. When they watch one video, they often want to watch *more and more. Then, they have less time to do homework, sleep, and talk with their families. They often say, “Just five more minutes,” but five minutes can quickly become one hour. Using smartphones late at night is not good for sleeping. This may make students feel tired the next day.

So, it is important for students to use smartphones *wisely. If they have a good *balance between using smartphones and studying, their lives will be better.

※ apps アプリ more and more どんどん wisely かしこく balance バランス
